The Mate's Desire.

[New Haven Register.]

Down at Cape Cod last summer Chauncey M. Depew heard of a rough skipper on a whaling voyage who when obstinate-could see nothing. The mate shouted out one day: "Thar she blows and thar she breeches;" and the captain says: "I don't see no blows and I don't see no breeches." Pretty soon the mate yells out: "Fhar she blows and thar she breeches;" the captain said: "I don't see no blows and I don't see no breeches. Again the mate yells out: "Thar she blows and thar she breeches;" the captain said: "Mate, if you think thar she blows and thar she breeches you can take the boat and go for her." The mate took the boat and brought alongside a whale which tried out eighty barrels of oil, and the captain said: "Mate, you have done well, and shall be mentioned to the owner; you will be complimented, perhaps rewarded." And the mate said: "Captain Jones, I don't want no mention, and I don't want no compliment, and I don't no reward; all I wantis common civility, and that of the d—dest, commonest kind."

A Persecuted Pastor.

Rev. G. W. Bailey, colored, formerly of Louisville, but who has recently obtained a pastorate in Franklin, where he preached last evening for the first time, was arrested last night, while on the train returning to Indianapolis, by a colored barber of Louisville, named Johnson, who claimed that Bailey had obtained money under false pretenses. The latter states that while he was pastor of the Louisville church he bought an organ for the Sunday-school, which, except a small amount, less than twenty five dollars, was paid for. The church split, subsequently, and the organ disappeared. The amount due not having been paid, Bailey was prosecuted for obtaining money under false pretenses, but was acquitted. Somebody then swore out a warrant against him for suspected felony, but gave bail, Johnson being one of his bondsmen, and placed his property in the hands of a receiver and came to Indiana, not intending to forfeit his bail. He protests he is a persecuted man, and this morning, having waived reequisition, returned to Louisville in custody of Officer Wells.

THE DAILY NEWS.

MONDAY, MAY 15, 1882.

THERE is sufficient law on the book; what is needed is virtue enough to enforce it.

ANOTHER county in Mr. Peirce's district has "instructed" for him, and it is likely he will be renominated by acclamation, as he ought to be.

THE Journal comes up to the defense of the Sunday saloon law breakers. This is probably the Spring preparation for a Fall "flop" on prohibition.

THE English government is said to be in on of valuable information, concerning the assassins. This may be true, but every day would seem to lessen the probability of their capture.

Bland displayed some of his statesmanship Saturday by abusing the national banks and clamoring for the unlimited coinage of silver. The latter proposition is all right, Mr. Bland, but you are not. What you want is not the unlimited coinage of silver, but the unlimited coinage of 82 cents worth of silver, which shall pass for a dollar

Tures is an end to all legal "quiddities" in the Guiteau case. The argument for a rehearing seems to have been heard with close attention, and a purpose to concede its conclusion if there was no legal or logical escape, and the examination of the case by the judges finally seems to have been unusually careful and exhaustive, and the end is the end of a rope on the 30th of June. It can hardly be pretended by the few who maintain Guiteau's insanity that his final condemnation comes of popular antipathy or delusion. He has had the benefit of all that the coolest and hardest law could do for him.

THE almost continuous rain and floods of the present spring must puzzle the "denudation" theorists of one school or the other, Says one, "the destruction of forests diminishes the rain fall." Says the other, "it does no such thing; it only diminishes the earth's power of storing the rain fall, so that it all runs off at once." But this spring the rain fall has been remarkably heavy, while, of course, the state was never before so bare of forests. And the waters have kept unusually high constantly even when there was no rain. Perhaps it should have been said that the season must puzzle both schools.

WHEN the Journal pleads that there is ne law closing saloons on Sunday, it de scends to pettifogging unworthy of it. The chairman of the police board was franker. He gave as his reason for not enforcing the law that the people didn't want it enforced, and that he had been requested not to do it. There is a law, which, under penalty of fine and discretionary imprison ment for sixty days, says no one shall sell, barter or give away liquors of any kind on Sunday. This law never was intended to close saloons on any day, the Journal says. This, in the face of the unquestioned fact that it did close them on the only Sunday it was ever enforced, and with the result of not a single case of Monday drunkenness in the mayor's court! The spectacle of a news paper saying such a thing! Does it think if the mayor and police board notified the saloon keepers that they intended, to the best of their ability, to enforce this law, that the the saloon owners would keep their saloons open all day just for fun, or for the purpose of handing out a drink the moment policeman's back was turned? Such s systematic attempt at law defiance would raise such a whirl-wind that the saloon keepers would gladly ery quits. The miserable pettifoggery which is trying to carry a barrel of water on one shoulder and a barrel of beer on the other, is just about equal to the effort of pleading that the existing law honestly enforced wouldn't close saloons. The existing law is not enforced because the ring that is trying to rule this city thinks it would hurt the party and loosen their grip. As to the editor of The News being obligated to enforce the laws as much as any citizen, he certainly is and never has shirked the obligation. But the size of the obligation is in his own obedience to the law, and that is all of the obligation that rests on any citizen. No one is expected, nor indeed is permitted, to enforce the law on anybody else than himself. That is the business of the constituted authori ties, who are elected sworn and paid for that purpose. As to the testimony the editor of The News be fore the grand jury, this much is to be said. He went before that body because the law laid its hand on him and summoned him there, and it made him take an oath not to reveal what was there said. But the prosecutor, or some one else bound by the same oath, had no scruples in violating it to try to make a neath contempt.

American Wares Superior.

There are many articles in which several countries are a long way shead of us. An example is to be found in the superiority of the tools which are now so largely imported into this country from America, and which, while remarkable for their quality and finish, are much less costly than those of English production.

Most of those bitten cousider themselves very shrewd business men. Peter Mattern is stuck to the tune of $140. John White, a staid old Dunkard, is in for $212; Rankin Hoover will settle for $229; Joseph Ridenour will square up with $125, and a number of ethers are bled for smaller amounts. The notes will all be paid, the lambe preferring not to spend money in litigating.

About January 1st last, a company of men started a machine at Fredericksburg for getting out various kinds of timber, and one Ed. Palmer was foreman, general purchaser and paymaster. About the 5th day of April, Palmer received a remittance of $600 to pay for timber and labor. He was be ore and after supper, in How's drugstore. He had taken some liquor, but was not drunk. He was known to have the money on his person at this time. He left the store about 8 o'clock in the evening, in company with Wm. Lowery and Samuel Lowery, since which time he has never been seen or heard of, although strict and extended search has been made for him. There is a general belief that Palmer has been murdered for his money.

Although the government has increased the rewards for the discovery of the murderers of Cavendish and Burke, the police despair of capturing them. A Father's Plan to Save His Son.

A Father's Plan to Save His Son. [London Telegraph.]
Originality of conception and vigor in execution alike characterize the expedient adopted a few days ago by a Parisian father to obtain his only son's exemption from the conscription of 1882. The youth, it appears, had drawn a "bad number", and the prospect of his exposure to the perils and latigues of military service plunged his mother into such dark depths of despair that her husband, unable to endure the contemplation of her sore affliction, made up his mind one day to take a measure which could not fail to avert the threatened separation of mother and son. While which could not fail to avert the threatened separation of mother and son. While they were weeping in one another's arms he suddenly clasped them both in a convulsive embrace, murmured the word "Adieu!" and rushed from the house to the nearest bridge over the Seine, whence he sprang head foremost into the river. Fortunately some boatmen, who saw him fall, promptly put off from the quay and succeded with considerable difficulty in rescuing him alive, but insensible. He was conveyed to the morgue and there stripped. conveyed to the morgue and there stripped in order to be subjected to the usual resto arive process of violent friction. In accor-dance with the regulations of that institu-tion his cicthes were searched, with a view of establishing his identity, and in his pocketbook was found a sleet of note paper, upon which he had written down his name, address, and the following touching sentence: "The child shall not he parted from his mother; he is a widows." only son." Never yet, in all probability, has a tale of sublime self-sacrifice been told in so few words.

Destructive Waters A special from Jacksonport, Arkansas, says: "We are in the midst of the most destructive overflow that has visited this section for years. There is not a foot of dry ground in town, except Jefferson street, which affords refuge to all the stock the citizens possess. The whole country for miles around is one sea of water, and the damage to crops and stock can not be ascertained, but may safely be estimated up in the thousands. The present flood is the highest since 1867. If a second rise should come, good by everything. The weather ic clear, with a strong northwestern wind and hopes are entertained that the worst is Guiteau Going.

[Washington Post, to day.]

Chief Justice Carter and Judges MacArthur, Wagner and James held a consultation on Saturday, summing up the arguments of counsel in the application of Guiteau for a rehearing. The consultation lasted four hours, and was marked by the most searching examination of authorities and a most rigorous analysis of every point made in the arguments. The judges were in thorough harmony all through and in reaching a decision, not for one minute differing in the general steps by which the dicision was reached, although of course each judge had individual opinions on various points of law and their application. The decision will be announced May 22. The decision affirms the sentence of the court below, of course overraling the exceptions. This disposes of Guiteau's last chance. He will be hung June 3),

"Wall yer was savia"?" remarked Mrs. Fennel, and then, stepping to the door, ex-claimed: "Tildy, take dat $1,000 bill, away from that chile. He tore up two yesterday, Dar sin't no sense in allowin' chillun ter 'stroy money in dat way." Mrs. Simpson retired, realizing that her hat was a failure.

A Reminder of Other Days.
[Washington special.]

On the desk of Recorder of Deeds Frederick Douglas to day rested a long box with a strangely shaped hard wood mailet, bound with bright steel bands, a sort of chisel and a mass of oakum. It came from the Chesspeake and Marine rathway and dry dock company's office on Philpot street, Baltimore, with a letter presenting the calker's tools as a reminder of old days. It was on Philpot street, Baltimore, that Mr. Douglass learned and worked at his trade as a calker in Baltimore, forty-six years ago. He says: "Some of the best shoughts and best resolves of my life were thought under a ship bottom while calking." A Reminder of Other Days.

Germany's Beer Bill. The beer bill of Germany begins to excite comment at home. A member of the German parliament observed that the "armed peace" from 1872 to 1880 had cost two milliards of marks ($1,250,000,000), whereupon the North German Gazette declared that in the same time six and a half milliards worth of been and nearly a miliard worth of brandy had been consumed—a drink bill of $1,800,000,000. Since Ariel Died.
Road on the mountain side,
Shining white in the sun,
Though many leagues divide
Us, thou and I are one!

Over thee pass the leet
Of prophets, that have trod
In places lone and sweet,
Thinking the thought of God.

I know this callous heart, To thee, old road, is kin, As o'er it, in the mark.
The wheels make mighty din.

For, never does it feel, So hard and nerveless grown, The iron hoof and wheel, That rumble on the stone. My Ariel is dead.
That, song and feeling gave
To throbbing heart and head;
He lies low in the grave.

And, ever since he died,
This dust with thee is one;
Road on the mountain side,
Shining bare in the sun!

Atry Arkaness.

The cyclone of last Monday night appears to have been the most destinctive and widespread that has ever been recorded. Reports have just been received from Montgomery county, Arkaness, where it struck Caddo's Cave, barely missing Mount Ids and Silver City. A. S. Swinton's residence was destroyed, and two Swintons and an Anderson were fatally injured; also the residences of S. Bates, Rufus Barrett, Riley Wheeler and Joy Bates. Several of these were seriously injured. S. M. Tuttlebaum's house, near Silver City, was demolished, and the occupants injured. At Southfork the postoffice was absolutely wiped out of existence, with all its contents, and W. L. Burton, postmaster, lout all he possessed. The extensive farm of R. H. McKinney, with nearly fifty buildings of all kind, was wiped clean, and many persons injured, some fatally. His loss is $30,000. Mr. Gilhart and family were injured and damaged to the amount of $5,000 by the killing of stock and scattering of money. Jerry Watkins's plantation, on the Ouchita, and Shelton Fulton's farm are destroyed. It is said seven or eight people were killed outright, and several hundred wounded. The citizens met at Mount Ida and issued an appeal for aid. The total loss can not be short of a quarter of a million of dollars.

CAUSE AND CURE OF

SICK HEADACHE

Sick Headache is one of those terrible chronic iseases that has been overlooked by the medical faculty, because few people ever die directly from it but may somer the agonies of death ten fold. Sick Headache is not dependent on a dyspeptic stomach, as is generally supposed to be the case, but upon an irritable state of the ner-yous system. The hosdache begins hours before the stomach becomes sick, and the cause of the ch getting sick at all is from nervous sympathy transmitted from the brain to the stomach. The real and first cause of these headaches lies still further back, and is to be found in a poor and impoverished condition of the nerve fluid, and while in this condition there are many local and while in this condition there are many local or exciting causes for these headaches, such as fatigue, overwork, bright light, hot sun, going without the usual meal, stimulants, and various other things may bring on an attack, but all because the nervous system is run down. Rosenfeld Sentenced.

M. H. Rosenfeld, alias Edward C. Hurst, C. H. Loving, Ed. Einstein and H. L. Weis, who passed a forged postoffice money order on Joseph Schloss, was arraigned before Judge Gresham, on Saturday evening, and sent north for two years on a confession of guilt. The district attorney had evidence showing that he had practiced similar swindles in Baltimore, Cincinnati, Fort Wayne, and other points. Rosenfeld is the author of the song, "See that my grave's kept green," and other equally flatulent ballads, and there's comfort in knowing that justice has overtaken him at last. Saturday, May 13:

FIRE DISURANCE—JOINT ACTION—INTERESTS.

8421. The Æina Insurance company vs. Wm.

Kittler, et al., trustes. Possy C. C. Reversed.

Franklin, C.

[1.] Where in an action on a policy of insurance, the policy was made part of the complaint and it was averred "that plaintiffs duly hifilled all the conditions of said agreement and insurance on their part, etc." The use of the word "fulfilled" is a sufficient compliance with the sationary provision, for pleading, generally the performance of conditions precedent.

(57 Mo., 413; 47 Cal., 416.)

and insurance on their part, etc." The use of the word "fulfilled" is a sufficient compliance with the stationary provision, for pleading, generally the performance of conditions precedent. (57 Mo., 418; 47 Cal., 416.)

[2.] In a joint action on an insurance policy by the owner and another who held a trust mortgage and to whom the policy had been made payable "as his interest may appear," the policy itself being executed to the owner of the building. There was no averment in the complaint as to the trust mortgagees interest except the note on the policy that the loss if any was payable to him as his interest may appear. There was an averment in the complaint that after the insured house was burned, it was rebuilt and was of as great value as the insured one immediately before the burning, and if the trust mortgage still held any claim by virtue of his mortgage at the time of the burning, when the cult was commenced, his security for its pay ment was pot in the least diminished by the burning, and the complaint shows no interest in him. It is not claimed that he acquired any interest in the policy after the loss. The complaint is joint and must show a right of action in both plaintiffs. (75 Ind. 535; 45 Ind., 515.)

APPEAL BONDS—APPEOVAL—WAIVER.

plaint is joint and must show a right of action in both plaintiffs. (76 Ind. 585; 46 Ind., 315.)

APPEAL BONDS—APPROVAL—WAIVER, 9231. Geo. M. Easter vs. John G. Acklemire. Clay C. C. Affirmed. Franklin C. [1.] Preliminary questions not going to the merits of the case, such as a motion to dismiss the appeal because a cojudgment defendant did not join in the appeal, etc., are walved by not being made before submission. [2.] In an action on a supreme court appeal bond, objections are urged to the complaint that it shows that the bond was not approved by the court, and the time in which it was to be filed was left blank in the record entry giving time. It is alleged in the complaint that the appr val of the security by the court was waived by agreement and that the bond was filed within the time allowed by the court. Parties may waive the approval of the bond by the court. (23 Ind., 74; 74 Ind., 318.) The record shows that time to file the bond was given, but the number of days left blunk. The complaint avers that it was filed within the time, and with the allegation of an express waiver, by the parties of the approval of the security by the court, the complaint stated sufficient facts.

death, and which ripened and was harvested during such year. (62 Ind., 56: 71 Ind., 578.)

PERJUSY—PLEA IN BAR—DEMURRER.

10123. Nelson Burk vs. The State of Indiana. Montgomery C. C. Reversed. Howk, J.

The appellant was indicted for perjury. The indictment charged in substance that the appellant, Nelson Burk, on a day named, before one William Armstrong, a duly elected justice, in the township of Franklin, Montgomery county, swore falsely in a suit regarding the purchase of certain cattle by the plaintiff from the defendant. The appellant filed a motion to quash the indictment, and a pies in abstement, to which the court sustained the state's demurrer, and overruled the motion to quash. At the time of the trial the act of April 14, 1881, concerning public offenses was in foce. In section 191 of that act (1 R. S., 81, sec, 2006) it is provided that "whoever, having taken a lawful oath or affirmation in any matter which, by law, an oath or affirmation in any matter which, by law, an oath or affirmation may be required shalt, on such oath or affirmation, swear or affirm willfully, corruptly and falsely, touching a matter material to the noint in question, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and, on conviction, shall be impisoned "etc. Section 173 of the criminal code of 1881 (Sec. 1747, R. S., 1881), provides, tu an inciciment or information for perjury, it shall only be necessary to set forth the substance of the controversy, when and before whom the alleged fase oath was taken. Under these statustry provisions the indictment, in this case was sufficient. The offine charged and the nicks constituting the same, were set forth with sufficient clearness.

the taxes, for which the order was given were of the class which the act prohibits from being refunded that was a matter of defense to the complaint. The complaint was sumicient. (Acts 77, p. 189.)

8734. With Smith va Harvey J. King. Tippe canos C. O. Alimmed, Woods J.

[1.] Where a party obtains an order opening up a decree, a demurrer to the complaint was should not be entertained for any cause which would be deemed cured by the verdict or in reference to which the complaint was amendable on the trial as a matter of course, and on appeal would be treated as amended, yet if the complaint is claimed to be a faulty defective, the court may permit it to be tested by a demurrer, whitout awaiting for a mation in arrest to which the party may resort. (Sec 44, code 81.)

[2] In an action in partition the appellee was admitted as adefendant after proof of publication had been made as to Ketcham and Harris, non-cusion defendants whose interest in the land appellee claimed by a cross-petition. No notice of this cruse-petition was issued or published to these defendants and a decree was made without reference to the cruse-petition and the land claimed by appellee being set off to Ketcham and Harris. The appellee filed a complaint to review these proceedings, serting that through his mi-rathe and inadvertence the indement in partition was made fn favor of Ketcham and Harris instead of in appellee's have not estipe an interest but has in fact no interest but has in fact no pocket, the genuineness of which was open to doubt. This morning he had an exami-nation before Commissioner-Milligan and was discharged, the money proving to be all right.

George E. Wallace was placed under arrest to-day on a federal grand jury warrant, charging him with using the mails to defraud. The complaints are Samuel E. Davis & Co., of Chicago, and the offense is similar in every respect to the trouble in which his brother Horace has engaged. It is understood that the grand jury indicted Horace, also; he having been bound over for their examination by Commissioner Milligan.

Anna Jordan and Minnie Bowers, two incorrigibles, were before the mayor to-day for the second time within two weeks, but were dismissed at the intercession of the step-father of the first named. Officers Buchana and Standridge made the arrest at the request of the parents, but hereafter, if the girls are again found running at large, they will proceed on their own volition. Both girls properly belong in the Female Reformatory.

McCariney gang of counterfeiters, and who has been a fugitive from justice for several years, was brought before Judge Gresham to-day and sentenced to eighteen months hard labor on a plea of guilty. The defendant's advanced age (71 years) and feeble condition caused the court to temper justice with mercy. He was arrested at St. Joe, Missouri, by Detective Rathbone.

arrested at St. Joe, Missouri, by Detective Rathbone.
Senator Jason B. Brown, of Seymour, who is in the city to day, says that while the temperance element in Jackson county is strong, he does not think there will be much change in the party vote next fall on either side. He thinks the female suffrage question will be lost sight of by the people in the coming campaign, and that as the last legislature agreed to the amendment in a freak of good humor rather than from a sense of conviction, the next legislature will prebably oppose it.

THE EAILEOADS.

Changes in the Divisions of the Wabash—The I, B & W.—Notes.

The changes on the Ohie and Indiada division of the Wabash road, went into effect to-day. Instead of three there are now two districts on the line, one extending from Toledo to Andrews, the other from Andrews to Tilton, Illinois. E.C. Murphy, superintendent of the Detroit and Indianapolis division, was in the city to-day and says the Fort Wayne ahope will not be abandoned, as rumored, but the main shops will be at Andrews; and shops have also been located at Tilton, Ill., on the bare prairie, three miles west of Danwille. Mr. Murphy says no changes in officials accompany the division changes, and that G. W. Stevens will continue as superintendent of the Ohio and Indiana division.

The I. B. & W. company, defected in its efforts to reach its Tennesse street grounds, has now turned its attention to the north side of the city. The plan under consideration at present is to build a semi-circular line around the morth end of the city, leaving the eastern extension at Brightwood and connecting with the I. D. & S. and I. B. & W. proper. A passenger depot in the vicinity of the exposition grounds is contemplated, furnishing accommodations for all the roads entering the city from the north.

The loreman of the C., I., St. L. & C. switching gang engaged in the backing match last Friday evening, has been discharged. Investigation snowed that the C., I., St. L. & C. train was out on its own track and not entitled to the right of way, but the Mississippi street switchman, Sherwood, threw the switch for the L. B. & W., and thus caused the backing. His conduct will probably cause his discharge.

The new Union depot question will come up for discussion Thursday next, in a meeting of presidents and superintendents of Indianapolis lines. This is an opportunity for the "outs" to be heard. An open conference may lead to the adjustment of all difficulties.

Paymaster Eddy, of the inter-state construction company, will go to morrow over the I., B. & W. easte $110,000.

An agreement has been reached between the I., B. and W. and B. and O., whereby the latter's schedule of trains shall, after the opening of the I., B. and W.'s Springfield route, be adjusted so as to make through connections for Washington, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

It is reported that J. D. Ellison, general manager of the Kentucky Central, will resign, to take effect June 1st. He was formerly superintendent of the Little Miami division of the Pan Handle.

CORONIAL MATTERS.

Fatal Accident to an Employe at the Fatal Accident to an Employe at the Insane Asylum—Death of a Soldier.

Saturday evening Joachim Bachtell, an employe at the insane asylum, met with an accident, which terminated fatally last night. The bake-shop is underground and separate from the main institution. A circular hole, several feet in width, leads to the surface, which might be called a ventilator. This ventilator is usually covered, but on Saturday night it was open, and by some means, Bachtell fell in and lay until 3 a.m. yesterday before discovery by the some means, Bachtell Iell in and lay unsulated as m. yesterday before discovery by the watchman. service regiment U.S. A., Saturday evening, eight miles south of the city, applied for permission to spend the night in the barn on Mr.
Daruall's farm. Yesterday he was found dead in the hay-mow, and the cause is attributed to general debility. Luhn represented, prior to taking shelter in the barn, that he was on his way from Cincinnati to Martinsville. His remains are now at Kregelo's awaiting order of friends.

The coroner to-day began taking testimony to unravel, if possible, the mystery of John Ackermann's death, but nothing so far has been developed beyond the mere fact of finding the remains in Pogue's run.

B. F. Pritchard's Latest Aiventures. N. S. Frizell, of Greenville, O., is in the ity to-day, taking depositions in the B. F. Pritchard, instead of securing a dismissal Pritchard, instead of securing a dismissal of the indictment upon which he was arrested, defaulted his bond and fied. Pritchard was subsequently seen in this city. An associated press dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, this morning, states that Pritchard was taken from an Ohio bailiff at Altoona, Pa., while being returned to Ohio as a fugitive from justice, on a writ of habias corpus, it being claimed that he could not be conveyed through Pennsylvania, without the officer first securing a warrant from the governor of that state. Govs. Foster, of Ohio, and Hoyt, of Pennsylvania, are corresponding about the matter, which, to say the least, is a rather queer proceeding.

Health Regulations and smallpex.

The representatives of the state and local health boards interested in immigrant inspection, as a means of checking the spread of contagious diseases, will meet at Port Huron, Mich. May 18. Dr. Stevens, secretary of the Indiana state board, will attend. At this meeting, which has been called after consultation with the national health board, rules and regulations governing the proposed in regulations governing the proposed in-spection will be formulated. The Indiana state board at its last meeting adopted the rules of the national board relative to smallpox.

Eight additional cases of smallpox have been reported in Parke county making twenty-six cases in the county since the disease appeared. These new cases are persons who had already been isolated.

The Tribulations of Andy Keller.
On Saturday evening Andrew K. Keller, in his mad flight to escape an enraged woman, nearly ran over a News reporter, who was quietly meditating on the mutability of human events, as he glided around the Circle. The pursuer proved to be Miss Frances Oehler, and when she found that Keller had distanced her on the first fifty feet, she changed her tactics and caused a warrant to issue for an arrest in bastardy. Keller spent yesterday in jail, but last evening one of the Gillilands went upon his bond and he was released. The examination was called this afternoon beforguire Pease, but it is understood that the parties have arranged a compromise, and will be married as soon as Keller is divorced from his present wife.

That Missing "stup."

A missing "stub," necessary in the Landers investigation, has given rise to some little gossip, and perhaps more or less feeling by the parties grinding away at this thing. This stub was proved to have been torn from the duplicate receipt book, and it afterwards turned up in the possession of Mr. Harris, who discovered it among his papers. How it came there he does not now readily recall, but thinks it was handed to him by some one interested in pressing this investigation. It was to Mr. Lander's advantage that it was found.

The following cases were decided Monday, May 15:

Another Lecherous Wretch.

Another Lecherous Wretch.

Ed. Stuart, a negro barber, whose skin is nearly white but whose soul is tolerably black, was arrested Saturday night charged with committing rape on Edith Blake, aged ten years, the daughter of his employer, Clarence H. Blake, white, also a barber, whose shop is at 255 East Washington steet. Stuart recently had charge of a barber shop, known as the 'Bijou,' at 33 West Market street, but was sent to jail a few weeks since for carrying concealed wespons. His fine was paid by Mr. Blake, en condition that Stuart should work out the amount at Mr. Blake's shop. He began work May 3, and the evidence shows that, having been given the range of the house, the Blake family living in the rear of the shop, he violently outraged the child in an out-house, Friday, the 5th, and frightening her into silence. The child subsequently complained of lojuries, the character of which were not at the time fully understood by its parents. Friday evening Stuart attempted to repeat the outrage, but was checked by the child herself. Saturday evening Mr. Blake found the child suffering from a disease, which left no doubt as to the nature of her injuries, and on being pressed, ahe told her mother of Stuart's crime. The father then sought the pelice and Stuart was arrested ab ut 12:30 o'dock in Laner's saloon on East Washington street, where he was playing pool. He was brought before the mayor this morning, and though protesting innocence, was bound over to the graad jury. He is about thirty-five years old and married. The child is recovering.

The City Court.

The city court docket to-day indicated that all the book beer fancets were open yesterday; but it was hard to distinguish which was the toughest tooking lot, the prisoners in the dock or the spectators outside the railing. There were a number of plain drunka, among them Thomas Donahue, who had been stabbed in the cheek by Patsy Davess, and George Haddle, who pleaded there was a sick wife at home mouraing his absences. George Strawn, arrested by Officers Sanda and McShuls for throwing a beer glass at Anna Thomas, in Tom Hyer's saloon, pleaded guilty. A number of tramps pleaded guilty at long range, and were allowed to leave town.

Counterfeiting Outift Scoured.

This morning while vault cleaners were at work on the east Market square, they fished up a full set of dies for the manufacture of nickles, dimes, quarters, half-dollars and dollars. They are supposed to have been thrown into the vault immediately after the arrest of Sandford Caylor, the other morning by the market master and Officers Travis and Baker. The dies were turned over to the custody of the federal marshal.
